Why choose AdaptiveComms

We can provide your calls and lines across a wide variety of connection methods. With flexible tariff structures, low cost call rates and line rental charges for both analogue and digital lines, we can deliver substantial savings to your business.

Ideal if...

- You want to reduce your costs regardless of your connection
- You want access to a wide range of additional services without having to change your business number or phone system.

Business Benefits

Choice

A range of lines to suit the needs of all businesses, large and small.

- Single analogue lines provide a single phone line and number for small businesses.
- Multiple auxiliary analogue lines connect an analogue phone system using one main shared phone number and a number of additional lines to manage capacity. Multiple incoming calls to the same number allow your business to expand without incurring the cost of acquiring and publicising additional phone numbers. A single bill is provided for the main number and its auxiliary lines.
- ISDN2 gives you capacity for 2-6 simultaneous external voice/data calls using 1-3 lines.
- ISDN30 gives you capacity for 8-30 simultaneous external voice/data calls.

Save money

Flexible tariffs, low cost call rates and business line rental charges means substantial savings for your business. Services are available on a 12 month contract with no minimum spend.

Quality

Our modern, resilient network and proven technology give you enhanced call clarity and dependability.

Seamless

Keep your current business number and services such as 1471 and 1571.

Simple

One bill for call charges and line rental, tailored to your needs.

Maximising value

Managing Costs

Through our consultative sales process, we will review your current business telecoms usage, enabling you to consolidate your service capacity to match your business needs.

Organisational Change

When you need to change how your business is structured, we can tailor your phone bill, enabling service changes to be cross-charged to the right cost centre.

Supplier management

We provide you with a single, named point of contact in the UK, so you can expect clear and concise help from someone who understands your business needs.

Communications with your customers

To ensure that your customers' calls are connected speedily and efficiently to the right person, our call handling experts can create bespoke services for your business.

Management information

Managing your business is made easy through our web portal, which provides online information about your call traffic, such as call volume by time of day.
